

WHAT MY LADY CAN PURCHASE IN VANITY FAIR.

Neck Ruffs and Fichus, Silken Hose, and Shoes With Silver Buckles.

"Vanity Fair! Vanity Fair!
What can you purchase in Vanity Fair?"

There comes a time during the transition days of spring, when it is too warm to wear a wrap, but being still early, my lady feels that she must, for appearance sake, wear something that may be called (though only through courtesy) a wrap. Through many successive seasons, Dame Fashion has struggled along with this problem and my lady wore furs in innumerable, varying styles from tip-sets to collarettes, from collars to hoods, and then she rebelled. The result was the feather boas which took the world of woman by storm; but soon her fickle fancy wearied of this also, and something new was demanded. Then came the most charming and most appropriate conceit ever designed for this purpose—the beautiful neck ruffs of the spring of 1902. These ruffs are made of point d'esprit, nettings and chiffons, all being elaborately trimmed with ruching, and fine braids. The chiffon ruff is not a 1902 idea, as many were worn last spring, but the designs for this year have all the charm of novelty. An original, dainty conception is the joining of the edges of the net or chiffon with the petals of roses, poppies or any of the summer flowers most pleasing to the wearer. Foliage is also used to some extent for this purpose. The ruffs come in white and all the delicate evening shades, in all black and black and white, the latter being particularly effective and likely to be extremely popular as are all black and white combinations, this year. All of the ruffs have long, stole ends which fall to the knee.

Much has been said about spring wraps and still much remains to be said. The very newest and probably most effective of all the spring wraps is the Du Barry coat. It is a three-quarter length coat made of the faintest of white fabrics, lined with Pompadour silks, the delicate tint showing through with an iridescent and indescribably charming effect.

The neck finishings of gowns for this year are left in a large degree to individual taste. The stock collar with a linen turn over, plain or embroidered, is extremely popular, but the chiffon and crepe ties have also a host of devotees. Later on the gowns will come with no collars and elbow sleeves. Some of these short sleeved imported gowns have a lace mit fastened to the sleeve.

One of the newest conceits in belts is a woven belt of pongee silk which fastens in front with a simple knot and leaves one end hanging. An accompaniment to this is a stock collar to match. Buckles retain all their old-time favor and are shown in every conceivable pattern from the plain harness buckle to the handsome and elaborate designs in cut steel. One handsome belt was in the very wide, giraffe effect, fastening low in the front and embellished with cut steel ornaments at front and back. With the dainty summer gowns, Pompadour sashes, with long ends and fluff bows at the sides, will be worn.

The next point of interest with my Lady of Fashion, is her shoes and this will be a "low shoe summer." Patent leathers and ideal kid are the favorite materials and the most popular shape will probably be the Colonial, a low shoe with military heel and adorned with buckles of silver, gilt, or cut steel.

The wearing of low shoes increases the demand for pretty hosiery, and the array of pretty things displayed at the hosiery departments is dazzling. They come in all colors and designs from fancy silk stockings to plain black and white. Black lace stockings and black, embroidered in colors, are particularly good, while blacks with colored stripes also sell well. Solid colors, such as reds and blues, are very popular, and white stockings will be extensively worn with the dainty summer gowns. White hosiery with colored stripes is also shown. The children do not share in all this gay dressing of the nether limbs, this year, and for them nothing but austere and uncompromising blacks are shown, the lace hosiery being their nearest approach to gaiety and elegance. Hosiery ranges in price all the way from 25 cents to $3 a pair, the most popular sellers being the 50 and 75 cents grades.

BACK PAY

Demanded by Edward J. Russell.

As Policeman, He Wants a Policeman's Salary.

Ex-Patrol Operator Edward J. Russell on Friday, by his attorney, W. T. Sawyer, sent a bill to the City Commissioners for back pay, claimed as salary from Oct. 16, 1899, to Feb. 17, 1902. The demand is made upon a technicality, based on the difference between the names "operator and policeman."

This change of names was made by the City Commissioners about three years ago. The ordinance creating the position of operator fixed the salary at $50 a month, but the pay of a policeman is $60 a month. The operators who had been made policeman finally demanded the pay of a policeman, and six months ago, without saying a word about the matter to Council, the Board granted the operators an increase of $10 per month. It was accordingly regarded by the operators that the Board's yielding to the claims six months ago, was an acknowledgment of the justice of their demands. If they were entitled to the extra money during the past six months, they figure that they were entitled to it from the time the name of their position was changed from operator to policeman.

Mr. Russell asks for $225. If he succeeds in collecting this amount the other operators will demand the same.

A GOOD WOMAN

A Brief Sketch of Mrs. Anna Irvin Johnston.

Mrs. Anna Irvin Johnston, wife of Washington G. Johnston, member of the Board of Public Works of Ohio, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. D. Seward, in Irvin Court, Thursday, March 27, 1902, at 12:30 p. m., after an illness of five months of chlorosis of the liver.

Mrs. Johnston was born in Yorkshire, England, Sept. 3, 1843, and came to Middlebury, Summit county, Ohio, with her parents while in her infancy. At the death of her mother, in 1851, she was taken into the family of James and Martha Irvin, as a daughter, and remained with them until her marriage to Mr. Johnston, Oct. 1, 1863. Mrs. Johnston was the mother of five children: James Irvin Johnston, Mrs. L. D. Seward, Miss Grace Johnston, and George A. Johnston, of Akron, and Mrs. Howard E. Lucas, of Massillon. Mrs. Johnston had lived since childhood in Summit county, and for more than 23 years in Green township. She was well known to a large circle of friends as a good and noble woman, a devoted wife and mother.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 standard time, at her old home, the residence of Mrs. Martha Irvin in Irvin Court, 1207 E. Market st. Interment in Middlebury cemetery.

Safe.

The little child is safe from ordinary dangers in the care of the faithful dog. But neither the dog's fidelity, nor the mother's love can guard a child from those invisible foes that lurk in air, water and food—the germs of disease. Children need to be specially watched and cared for. When there is loss of appetite, lassitude and listlessness in a child, an attempt should be made to revive the appetite and calm the spirits. In Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery parents have found an invaluable medicine for children. Its purely vegetable character and absolute freedom from alcohol and narcotics commend it to every thoughtful person. It is pleasant to the taste, unlike the iron oils and their emulsions ordered for children's use. "Golden Medical Discovery" makes pure blood and sound flesh, and absolutely eliminates from the system the poisons which feed disease.

Mrs. Ella Gardner, of Waterville, Middlesex Co., Va., whose daughter suffered from muscular poisoning and catarrh writes: "My little daughter is enjoying splendid health. I am glad I found a doctor who could cure my child. She took twelve bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' eight bottles of 'Pell's,' and one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and she is well. We thank God for your medicines."

Give the little ones Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets when a laxative is needed. They're easy to take and don't gripe.
